

Throughput against latency on the K1 — every point is a run; colour = control-output gap camera release → control output (ms, median)

